WINERY FEATURE

PLANETA: Still one of our favourite wineries - Planeta continue to innovate but still making wines that are interesting, great to drink and display a sense of place - they now have six wineries on the island of sicily (a place where a lot of grapes are still shipped to the north of Italy to be made into wine) and we look forward to taking the first wine from their brand new sixth winery (in Milazzo) at some point this year.

38. POGGIO ALLA BADIOLA, TOSCANA ROSSO, MAZZEI, TUSCANY, ITALY (13%ABV) £27.95

Merlot, Sangiovese - Delicious, plummy, damson fruit flavours with smooth, integrated tannins.

In all but name this is a "super-Tuscan". That is the making of wines that don't exactly conform to the strict rules of the area (Chianti Classico in this case). The idea here is to make a wine for earlier drinking but without compromising any of the quality of this famous producer. Perfect with all kinds of red meat or when tomato is present in a sauce.

39. DOLCETTO D'ALBA DOC, VIGNA NIRANE, ASCHERI PIEMONTE, ITALY (13.5%ABV) £28.95

Dolcetto - Ruby red colour with violet hues. Fruity, fragrant, forthcoming bouquet, with notes of cherry, red current and apricot. Soft yet persistent palate, well balanced acidity and tannins.

40. SECCO BERTANI "VINTAGE EDITION", ROSSO VERONESE VENETO, ITALY (13.5%ABV) £29.50

Corvina, Sangiovese, Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon - A lovely concentrated style of red made in the Valpolicella zone but with a slightly different grape mix - a homage to the style they made of this wine in the 1920's. Rich and powerful but with a hint of freshness on the finish.

41. ROSSO DI MONTEPULCIANO, POLIZIANO TUSCANY, ITALY (14%ABV) £31.95

Sangiovese - A young and fruity wine, full bodied but not aggressive, it displays a good balance of complexity and drinkability.

Not to be confused with Montepulciano d'Abruzzo (you can find this elsewhere on our list), Montepulciano in southern Tuscany is one of the classic wine areas of this beautiful region. A satisfying wine with a good forward fruit character but a nice degree of depth to satisfy all red wine lovers.

42. ETNA ROSSO DOC, PLANETA, SICILY, ITALY (13%ABV) £32.50

Nerello Mascalese - Pale bright ruby-red in colour. It shows aromas of red fruit preserved in alcohol, roses, oriental spices and beeswax.

On the palate the wine is full bodied, velvety and warm. Ending with soft and sweet tannins and with a long sumptuous finish.

45. MONPRÀ LANGHE ROSSO DOC, CONTERNO FANTINO PIEMONTE, ITALY (14%ABV) £61.95
